Focus and Your Journey

Introduction

Within North East Lincolnshire Focus Independent Adult Social Work C.I.C provides Adult Social Care on behalf of the Local Authority or Council.

Focus is a community interest company delivering statutory social services, including the operational safeguarding responsibilities for adults. We are a member led organisation.

We work in close partnership with Humber and North Yorkshire Integrated Care Board who have held the delegated responsibility and budget for Adult Social Services since September 2007. This provides many opportunities for integrated work with health colleagues together with those from the Council.

Most people access Focus through the Single Point of Access (SPA), a solution focussed approach, utilising a persons strengths , will enable identification of a range of solutions. This could be advice and support to access community resources. Or access to the multi disciplinary Triage team who will be able to access resources to manage more complex and urgent situations. Some individuals will require further assessments to further explore a persons needs and identify appropriate support. This assessment will be led by Focus, drawing on other professionals as required.

Some people will need ongoing services to remain safe but the least restrictive ways are sought to achieve this in partnership with the person. Once an individual budget has been determined this might be used for domiciliary care or day opportunities and in some cases residential or nursing care may be needed. Some people choose to have a direct payment to commission their own care and we provide information and guidance to enable this to happen. In all cases services are monitored and reviewed to ensure they remain the best options for the person, and are working to either maintain or increase independence and wellbeing.

Finance is also important as there is an expectation that people will contribute, where able, to the cost of any service they receive. To determine this a financial assessment will be undertaken and people need to be aware this will happen and be supported through this process. It is therefore vital you are aware of the Community Care Finance roles within Focus and work closely with these colleagues.

What is an adult social care assessment?

Adult social care assessments are free of charge and are available for anyone over the age of 18 and for younger adults transitioning into adulthood and adult social care. An assessment is how we establish what a persons strengths are and which areas they may need support with. We use a national eligibility criteria to decide if the needs you have are eligible for support from us. It consists of 4 stages; assessment, deciding on eligibility, support planning and financial assessment.

You, or your representative can request an adult social care assessment by contacting the Single Point of Access on 01472 256256 (option 2).

We also offer the facility for a self assessment:

- The self assessment is for adults (over 18)
- You can complete it yourself or on behalf of someone else
- It usually takes around 10-15 mins to complete the first section to get a result
- You do not have to tell us who you are or share any of your personal details to access information
- Once completed it will provide you with personalised suggestions, advice and information about how to get support in the areas you have identified
- After getting a result, you will have the chance to make a referral to us for more information

The self assessment can be found at: <https://www.nelincs.gov.uk/health-wellbeing-and-social-care/adult-social-care/>

Adult social care eligibility

Determining eligible adult social care need is important to work out. We have to make sure that we help those people with the greatest need for care and support. To do this we will carry out an assessment of your needs, how these needs impact on your wellbeing and consider what you'd like to achieve in your day-to-day life. We use eligibility criteria, which are like a set of national rules to help us decide if you are able to get support from us.

Personal budgets

Once we have agreed eligibility with you, we will agree the amount of money required to meet the needs identified within your support plan. The amount of money we identify is called a personal budget and it allows you to:

- choose and control the support that is best for you
- be fully involved in decisions about the help you need to live independently
- support yourself in ways that suit you

Support plans

Everyone's needs for care and support are different, and those needs can be met in many different ways.

The care and support planning process is there to help decide the best way to meet your needs after the assessment. We will develop your support plan with you and any other people involved with your care if you wish.

Your plan will look at: what needs you have, what you want to achieve, what you can do by yourself or with the support you already have, and what types of care and support are available.

Review

A review is a re-assessment of your adult social care needs.

Keeping support plans under review is an important way of ensuring they are up to date, relevant, and they are meeting the needs of the person. Without a review, plans could become out of date meaning that a person is not obtaining the right care and support to meet their changing circumstances. Support plans also identify particular outcomes that the person wants to achieve, which need to be reviewed to ensure they are on track or they are still relevant to the person's wellbeing.

We will always review your support needs yearly, however we will review quite soon after any new service has commenced to ensure the new service is working as expected.

If your care needs fluctuate, we may review them more regularly.

You can request a review of your care needs at any time from us by contacting your key worker or the Single Point of Access on 01472 256256 (option2).

www.focusadultsocialwork.co.uk

Your Assessment

The assessor will firstly ask you for your consent to complete the assessment followed by asking for your consent to share information with other relevant professionals involved in your support. This will require your signature for confirmation of that consent.

NOTE - If you are unable to consent to the assessment the assessment can still be completed if it is deemed it is in your best interest.

There are three types of assessments that can be completed:

- Individual/single - this is an assessment of your need
- Joint - this is an assessment of your need and your carers needs
- Carers - this is an assessment of your carers needs

What will the assessor need to know?

The assessor will need to know your current situation - this will include the reason for the request for an assessment and what has lead up to this. It is helpful here to know about how you and if applicable how your carers spends their day/week and information about and anything else you feel is relevant for the assessment.

The assessor will assess your needs against a national eligibly criteria as follows:-

- Managing and maintaining nutrition
- Maintaining personal hygiene
- Managing toilet needs
- Being appropriately clothed
- Being able to make use of the adult's home safely
- Maintaining a habitable home environment
- Developing and maintaining family or other personal relationships
- Accessing and engaging in work, training, education or volunteering

- Accessing and engaging in work, training, education or volunteering
- Making use of necessary facilities or services in the local community including public transport, and recreational facilities and services
- Carrying out any caring responsibilities the adult has for a child

If a joint or carers assessment is taking place the carers needs will be assessed against a national carers criteria as follows:-

- Carrying out any caring responsibilities the carer has for a child
- Providing care to other persons for whom the carer provides care
- Maintaining a habitable home environment in the carer's home (whether or not this is also the home of the adult needing care)
- Managing and maintaining nutrition
- Developing and maintaining family or other personal relationships
- Engaging in work, training, education or volunteering
- Making use of necessary facilities or services in the local community, including recreational facilities or services
- Engaging in recreational activities

The assessor will focus on the above needs and identify what you can do for yourself or what support is already in place to identify with you what eligible needs are already being met.

You will be asked what is important to you and what do you want to achieve from the assessment?

Discussions will then link what is important to you. Based on the above information the assessor will identify unmet eligible needs and confirm your personal budget amount. A discussion will then take place how your unmet needs may be met.

There may be a need for the assessor to discuss your finances as all services provided are chargeable.

The assessor can make referrals for benefits check if you are unsure if you are claiming all you are entitled to.

The assessor will offer you a home fire safety check and ensure systems are in place for checking your smoke detectors work.

It would help the assessor if you could give the assessor as much information as possible based on the information in this leaflet. Preparing for the assessment would be helpful.

Feedback on your assessment is always welcomed, your assessor will leave you a feedback leaflet for this purpose. See page 54 of this booklet for more information. There may be a need for the assessor to discuss your finances as all services provided are chargeable.

Care and support self-assessment

‘Care and support’ is the term we use to describe the help some adults need to live as well as possible with any illness or disability they may have. It can include help with things like washing, dressing, eating, getting out and about and keeping in touch with friends or family.

You can complete a self-assessment on the North East Lincolnshire Council website at <https://www.nelincs.gov.uk/health-wellbeing-and-social-care/adult-social-care/> or by scanning the following qr code.

Are you a carer?

A carer is someone who provides unpaid support to a relative, partner or friend who is ill, frail, disabled, has a mental health problem or substance misuse problem. The support may be personal, practical, emotional or supervisory.

Many people do not see themselves as carers because they see themselves as husbands, wives, partners, parents, siblings or friends. However, by providing unpaid care, they are in fact 'carers' and there is information, help and support available for them.

If you would like a Carer's Assessment, visit the Carers Support Centre www.carerssupportcentre.com or please call the Single Point of Access on 01472 256 256 (option 2).

North East Lincolnshire Council recognise that carers play a vital role in caring for their loved ones. To find out more about North East Lincolnshire Council's vision for Carers see the North East Lincolnshire Carers' Strategy 2023-2026 at www.nelincs.gov.uk.

Sensory impairment assessments

Focus provide specialist Care Act assessments, support and information to individuals who have a hearing loss.

Focus have commissioned the Lindsey Blind Society to provide specialised Care Act assessments, support and information to individuals who have a sight loss.

For individuals who have a visual and hearing loss Focus work alongside Lindsey Blind to provide a joined up approach.

We have a wide range of equipment to promote independence on a 'try before you buy' basis. These include loop systems, personal listeners, portable door bells, liquid level indicators, magnifiers and electronic magnifiers, alongside other equipment that may help in the home.

Assessments can be requested through the Single Point of Access, 01472 256256, option 2.

For individuals who want to be more independent with accessing the community, following assessment, mobility training may be available. This would include long cane training to enable individuals to access familiar routes learning new techniques and road safety.

Focus are able to access the appropriate interpreters for BSL users who want to have a Care Act Assessment, ensuring confidentiality at all times.

How Care Act 2014 works

If you are thinking of moving, you or someone on your behalf, like a family member or carer, have to contact the local council in the area you are moving to and tell them about your plans. They will be able to give you more information and advice about local services to help you make a decision about your move. They will then get in touch with the council where you are currently living to make sure that you are genuinely looking to move.

The sooner you let the council know about your plans; they can start looking into your situation and help make arrangements.

Continuity of care when moving to a new area

On occasion, people with care needs can decide to move to another area. This can be for many reasons, a main one being, to be closer to family members who live in another area.

The Care Act 2014 ensures that you receive proper 'continuity of care' if you decide to move from one area to another. This means that if you are receiving care and support in one area, you will continue to receive this support on the day of your arrival in the new area.

Sharing of information between the councils

The council in the area where you are currently living and who has carried out your care and support assessment in the first place, must provide a copy of your most recent care and support plan and any other information as requested to the other council. If you have a carer who is also moving and is continuing to support you after you move, the council must also provide your carer's most recent support plan.

The new council will then undertake its own care and support assessment and carer's assessment to find out if there are any changes to your needs as a result of the move. For example, you may be moving nearer to family and not need as much support from the council or you may need more support in your new home. If possible and practical, both assessments can take place before you move to ensure that the right care and support is in place when you arrive.

Both councils will keep in touch throughout this process and keep you informed.

What happens when you move

Even if the new council has not completed its own assessment before you move, they have to make sure your needs are met from the day you move. They can use the information provided by your current council to decide what services to put in place to meet your needs until they have completed their own assessment. This should ensure that you do not experience any gap in the care and support you need every day.

Self-funding

If you pay for your own care because of having above threshold means, and plan to move to another area, you should contact the new authority at the earliest opportunity to discuss your move. They will be able to provide you with information about either care at home providers or care home providers in this area and this will enable you to make a decision about choosing a new provider in the new area.

Please note that for this purpose, "the Council" referred to in North East Lincolnshire will be Focus Independent Adult Social Work.*

Care Providers and Services

Care homes and housing options

Residential care offers long-term care and respite in residential care settings. North East Lincolnshire has residential care homes for older people, people with mental health care needs and those who specialise in care for people with a learning disability.

Unique integrated commissioning arrangements mean that residential care providers are seen as equal partners in the provision of health and social care to the community of North East Lincolnshire. Furthermore, the ICB, Focus, Navigo and Care Plus Group continually work with providers to improve knowledge and deliver best practice in care settings.

For more information on Care Homes, please contact the Single Point of Access on 01472 256 256.

Social Housing

'Council Housing' is now known as 'Social Housing' and provided by Lincolnshire Housing Partnership (LHP).

LHP is a 12,700 home landlord formed in April 2018 from a merger between Boston Mayflower and Shoreline Housing Partnership.

Covering the whole of the historic east coast of Lincolnshire, LHP provide affordable rental and shared ownership homes as well as a range of services to help support people and communities.

Housing Associations

Housing associations are non-profit organisations set up to provide affordable accommodation for people who cannot afford to access market housing. Homes are offered for rent and low cost home ownership.

Home Choice Lincs

Home Choice is part of a national initiative called Choice Based Lettings. It is a partnership that brings local authorities and housing associations together to jointly advertise homes available to rent. The scheme partners are North Lincolnshire Council, North East Lincolnshire Council, Longhurst Group, North Lincolnshire Homes, Sanctuary Housing and Ongo Homes.

They offer a wide range of housing including family accommodation, single person housing and older persons bungalows or flats. Anyone over the age of 16 can apply providing they are eligible by law to join the housing register. Once registered applicants are given a priority band based on their housing need and are then able to apply for any suitable properties that are advertised.

To register for the scheme, for more information or to view properties please visit the Home Choice Lincs website, call into any of our partners' offices or contact the Home Choice Lincs Team.

Preventing Homelessness

The Home Options Team gives free, confidential and impartial housing advice and assistance to residents who have housing needs. Their main aim is to reduce and prevent homelessness in North East Lincolnshire whilst making sure that your home is suitable and that you are able to manage the tenancy.

Telephone: 01472 326296 Option 1

Supported living

Supported living is a scheme where vulnerable adults (people with learning/physical disability/autism/mental health) are supported by a housing provider to maintain their own tenancy for a property. They are then supported by a care provider whose aim is to enable individuals to live as independently and safely as possible. Based on assessed needs, individuals can receive support and assistance with many aspects of their day-to-day life - this could include:

- Managing bills and money
- Cooking and healthy eating
- Shopping
- Learning new skills for independence
- Personal care and well-being
- Managing medication
- Accessing employment, sports and social activities

In North East Lincolnshire, we have a number of supported living accommodation options available. Providers are expected to deliver good quality outcomes to people living in both single occupancy and group dwellings (and to demonstrate achieved outcomes), and to increase and promote independent living. The supported living options currently available locally include apartment models, shared houses and individual accommodation.

Apartment Model

Typically apartments are where individuals have their self-contained flat in a shared block. Support is delivered to individuals within their individual accommodation. This model usually has communal areas for people living in the model to 'socialise together'. This model can work for individuals with a range of needs but works particularly well for individuals who want / require more independence.

Shared House

This model is based on a small number of individuals (usually no more than 5) living together in a shared house. Individuals have their own bedroom and all other areas of their home are shared with all tenants. With this model, everyone living in the shared house all contribute to the bills and upkeep of communal areas.

Individual Accommodation

This is an individual service for individuals wanting or needing to live on their own in a flat/house or bungalow. The individual is solely responsible for the bills and upkeep of their property. Any support required is delivered directly into their own home.

Support Needs

The support an individual needs is decided and planned with them directly and / or with family involvement or an advocate / IMCA. A Care Act Assessment is completed by a Social Worker / Co-ordinator who will identify how much support the individual requires and then refer the individual to a support provider. The support required can be provided on a 24/7 full time basis with someone either sleeping at the persons home or staying awake overnight. Support can range from a few hours a day or week, it really does depend upon what the person needs and wants to help them live within their own home.

What is the difference between residential support and supported living?

There are several key differences between residential support and supported living, these being:

- In residential care, people have their food, heating and general needs included in the weekly fee charged by the provider. People then receive a small weekly allowance.
- In supported living individuals are responsible for their own bills and cost of living which is usually paid for by the benefits they receive and can be topped up by any wage that they earn through employment.

Extra care housing

Providing housing with care for older people in North East Lincolnshire.

About the scheme

The NHS is working with the Council to provide new homes that support older people in Grimsby to remain independent and healthy for as long as possible. Currently there are two facilities within the Grimsby area, Strand Court and Burchester Court. Both contain 60 flats, which are either one or two bedrooms.

What is Extra Care Housing (ECH)?

Extra Care Housing schemes are being developed in North East Lincolnshire, to provide housing with care and support for older people as their needs increase. ECH represents a real alternative to traditional residential care as it allows people to retain their own property, address and front door, whilst having easy access to the care and support they will need to keep healthy and continue living independently.

These individual homes (flats or apartments) will be grouped in a single building, set around communal facilities such as a residents' lounge, restaurant, activity rooms, hairdressing salon, and private landscaped gardens. People living in ECH still want to be part of their local community, so some of the communal facilities, such as the restaurant, hairdressers and some activities will be open for use by older people living in the local community, as well as residents. They will be close to main roads, served by public transport and close to local community facilities, to support independent living.

The Extra Care Housing being developed in NEL is for frailer older people and has many additional benefits, intended to help them maintain their own home for longer, whilst enjoying a good quality of life combined with safety and security. The homes are being built to high standards, including Lifetime Homes, which means that people are less likely to need to move home if their care needs change or they become less mobile and need equipment or adaptations to assist them with daily life. People living in Extra Care Housing are also much less likely to need residential care as their care needs increase.

A care team will be working at each scheme 24 hours a day, 365 days a year to provide care and support to those tenants needing it, and help in an emergency, such as when someone has an accident or becomes ill. This support will be there to respond to individual needs, including help with things like cooking meals, personal care (washing, getting up or into bed etc.), taking medicine or just getting around.

This is intended to help people to live independently for longer, through preventing them needing to go into hospital unnecessarily and also allowing them to be discharged as soon as they are fit after any hospital stay. Some flats could be used as a short stay/step down facility for people coming out of hospital whose current home is unsuitable for their changed needs and who need to either move home or have their current home adapted.

Living at home now and in the future

If you want to live at home as independently as you can, you'll find services, organisations, information and advice here that will support you to do it, for example:

- Domiciliary care (care at home) agencies can help you with personal care like washing and dressing, or eating.
- There is a wide range of equipment to keep you safe in the home such as grab rails for the bathroom, stair lifts, monitors that can tell if you've fallen and will raise the alarm, and sensors that detect escaping gas or overflowing water.
- And there is equipment to help keep you mobile inside your home or when you're out and about, walking sticks and frames, rise and recline chairs, mobility scooters and wheelchairs.
- You can find organisations that offer gardening and house maintenance services, including answering emergency call outs.
- Do you have a Direct Payment? If so, you might want to think about how a Personal Assistant (PA) could help you to live independently at home. There are local services that will help you recruit one and then support you in dealing with things like tax and National Insurance.
- Do you need help with making a meal? You can find information about meals on wheels and other providers that will deliver ready meals to your home.

Home care

There are currently three “care at home” providers in North East Lincolnshire, commissioned by the Integrated Care Board (ICB) to deliver services to people who have been assessed as needing care at home. We work with providers to find new ways of commissioning care to ensure it is as flexible and person centred as possible.

Telecare and telehealth technology

Telecare services can help you to stay safe and remain more independent in your own home.

Telecare is a type of wireless technology that connects equipment in your home to a call centre using your telephone line. There is a range of home equipment, devices and tools such as; wristbands that you press to alert the call centre if you need help and monitors that can detect falls, or gas, or overflowing water.

Telecare systems are available 24 hours a day, so you can call for help in an emergency at any time of the day or night.

Carelink offers reassurance, through telecare, to individuals who may be vulnerable through illness, disability, isolation, violence or abuse.

For more information about Telecare services and the range of solutions available, visit the Carelink website, or the AT Dementia website for information about assistive technologies for people with dementia and their carers.

Advocacy

From April 2015, care and support in England changed for the better. The new Care Act helped make care and support more consistent across the country.

‘Care and support’ is the term we use to describe the help some adults need to live as well as possible with any illness or disability they may have. It can include help with things like washing, dressing, eating, getting out and about and keeping in touch with friends or family.

If you receive care and support, or you support someone as a carer, you could benefit from the changes.

What is advocacy?

Advocacy is helpful for people who find it hard to make decisions about the care and support they need. An advocate is a person who works with you to make sure that your ideas and wishes are heard and that you get the right care and support for you.

Who is advocacy for?

Advocacy is useful for:

- children and young adults
- an adult whose care and support needs are being assessed or reviewed
- a carer whose needs are being assessed
- people who are being assessed during a safeguarding enquiry

How do I get advocacy?

Focus Independent Adult Social Work must always make sure that you are involved in the decisions made about your care and support.

If you (or someone you care for) finds it hard to:

- understand and remember important information
- use that information in daily life, or
- express views, wishes or feelings

then Focus must offer you an advocate to help you get the support and care you want and need.

Tell me more about how an advocate can help me

Advocates are independent from the council, the NHS, your doctor, Focus Independent Adult Social Work and other healthcare services. Your advocate will get to know you so they can support and represent you when decisions are made about your care. Your advocate will make sure that your wellbeing and interests are always carefully considered.

Your advocate will help you to:

- understand the care and support process
- talk about your wishes, views and feelings
- make decisions
- challenge decisions about your care and support if you don't agree with them
- understand your rights
- support you in the safeguarding process, if necessary

Meal delivery to your home

Many people already benefit from a hot meal delivery service. These services are accessed and paid for independently.

The Assisted Living Centre

The centre provides advice and information for people who require equipment and support at home to be able to maintain their independence.

People can get advice on a range of equipment available to help them at home including wheelchairs, hoists, walking frames and even home adaptations including stair lifts.

The community equipment store is based in the centre, where many of these items are loaned out from. It also has a demonstration area featuring a kitchen, bedroom, bathroom and lounge, where people can see how equipment that could help them at home works. There are also clinic rooms, a wheelchair services workshop and a podiatry lab on-site as well.

The centre is open Monday to Friday, from 10am to 6pm (with last entry at 5.30pm), and Saturday's 10am to 4pm (last entry 3.30pm).

Finances, Benefits and Property

Introduction

In North East Lincolnshire, the Council and the Integrated Care Board (ICB) work in partnership to ensure that care and support services are delivered to those who are assessed as needing them. Focus Independent Adult Social Work carries out financial assessments (along with other care and support functions) on behalf of the Council and the ICB.

Care and support at home is not provided free of charge. The amount that people pay depends upon their financial circumstances and the services they receive. People are only charged if they have financial assets and/or income above a certain level.

We want to help people to live at home as independently and as safely as possible. We also want the charges for the care that we provide for people at home to be fair.

Most of the services we provide for you in your own home will be assessed for a charge. You will not be charged for National Health Services (NHS).

Financial Assessments

As soon as your care needs have been assessed, someone from our Finance Team will be alerted to carry out an assessment of your financial circumstances. They will work out whether you are able to pay a contribution to the costs of your care. This information will form part of a service user's confidential record. Charging for care and support at home begins from the date your service starts.

A Financial Assessment Officer will contact you to arrange a suitable visiting time, venue etc. You may have a member of your family or a friend present if you wish. Any information will be treated in confidence in accordance with our declaration under the General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) which is included on the Financial Assessment form.

You will be asked to disclose details of your financial circumstances in order for a financial assessment to be conducted. You have the right to withhold consent for this disclosure, but if you do so, this will be considered as formally declining your right to be financially assessed and the full cost of your package of care will be charged.

You must not give away any financial resources, or deprive yourself of them in any other way in order to reduce your ability to pay your charges. If you do so, adult social care may regard these resources as still belonging to you. If you are in any doubt about your situation you should seek legal advice. You do have the right to seek independent financial advice.

The Finance Team will be happy to answer any questions and explain the charging policy if there is anything you do not understand.

All of our staff carry identification with them so please check this before allowing anyone into your home.

If you receive your services via Direct Payments you will still be required to undertake a financial assessment.

Financial assessment for care and support at home

If you receive care and support in a care home you will be offered a financial assessment to ascertain whether you will pay a client contribution rather than the full cost of your care package. A Financial Assessment Officer will come to see you/ your Financial Representative and look at your income and expenditure in order to calculate your weekly charge.

Paying for your care and support at home

If you receive a Direct Payment service, you will be asked to pay your client contribution directly into your Direct Payment account on a four weekly basis. If you do not receive a Direct Payment service, you will be invoiced by North East Lincolnshire Council for your contribution towards the cost of your care, this can be paid in two ways:

1. By standing order, which means the monies will automatically come out of your bank on a four weekly basis; or
2. By invoice. Your invoice will cover a four week period and this can be paid using a number of payment methods which will be listed on the back of your invoice.

Direct Payments

As part of your care and support at home, you may be receiving your services via a direct payment. This means that you are organising your own care and support. Your personal budget will be paid into a Direct Payment Card (DPC) account which you will manage yourself or a third party support service may do this for you. Your budget will be paid net (less any client contribution due) and you will need to pay your client contribution into the DPC account. The DPC account will be audited by a Direct Payment Officer in the Finance Team on a regular basis. If there are any discrepancies, it may result in your direct payment being suspended.

More information about Direct Payments can be found here - <https://www.nelincs.gov.uk/health-wellbeing-and-social-care/adult-social-care/paying-for-your-care/direct-payments/>

Financial assessment for care and support in a care home

If you receive care and support in a care home you will be offered a financial assessment to establish whether you will pay a client contribution rather than the full cost of your care package. A Financial Assessment Officer will come to see you/ your Financial Representative and look at your income and outgoings in order to calculate your weekly charge. When someone resides in a care home, as part of the financial assessment process you have to be left with what is known as the Personal Expenses Allowance (PEA). Your Financial Assessment Officer will talk to you about this and how your charge will be calculated.

Paying for your care and support in a care home

You will receive an initial invoice from the Council and then you will need to make your payment direct to the care home. Details will be given to you as part of the financial assessment process and then the staff at the home will assist you with making your ongoing payments.

Deferred Payments

If you reside in a care home on a permanent basis and own a property, you may be offered a Deferred Payment. This means that you will pay a contribution towards your care and support and the difference between this and the full cost of care will be accrued against your property. In effect, you are receiving a loan. Once your property sells or you no longer require the service, the loan will be repaid from the proceeds of your house sale.

There are a number of instances where your property will be disregarded, such as spouse still remaining at home. Be aware, that there is an administration fee and interest is charged for a Deferred Payment. For more information, please contact the Finance Team.

Respite care

There is usually a contribution to be made for your respite stay according to your financial circumstances. The charge will be financially assessed using the care at home charging process and a care at home financial assessment will be completed. The amount you pay will depend on your financial assessment outcome and the maximum you will pay per week will be noted on your letter and notification.

On rare occasions a respite stay may need to be extended beyond 8 weeks and in these circumstances a full residential financial assessment will need to be carried out.

If you are in receipt of Attendance Allowance and your respite stay is extended beyond 4 weeks, you will need to inform the Attendance Allowance Unit on 0800 731 0122 of your situation.

Top-up payments

If you reside in a care home on a permanent or temporary basis, you may be asked by the care home to pay a top up payment. Please note, that in most cases, an individual receiving the care and support is not eligible to pay their own top up payment and a third party is required to make this payment. It is important to understand this process as if a top up payment fails, you may be required to move to a different care home where there is no top up payment in place. A top up payment does not cover eligible care and support needs and is paid for additional services so please ensure you discuss this in full with the Care Home and Social Work staff in order to ensure you are clear on what additional items you are paying for.

Capital over

If you have capital over the upper capital limit, which is currently £23,250 (2026), you will not be entitled to a financial assessment and will be expected to pay the full cost of your care. If you wish for 'Focus' to arrange your care and support at home, you will be asked to pay an administration fee to cover the costs involved. Currently, the Care Act 2014 does not allow 'Focus' to commission your care and support if you live in a care home.

Care arrangement fee (administration fee)

The Care Act allows local authorities to charge an administration fee for arranging care and support for someone in their own home when they have assets above the upper capital limit.

The Council charges an administration fee, which is due for payment when the care and support package has been arranged. This fee is to cover the costs involved in arranging care and support. The administration fee is payable each year, at the time of the individual's financial assessment. This fee is charged every year regardless of changes to the care and support received. The full fee is payable regardless of the length of time a service is in place for. Refunds are generally not offered where services are cancelled part way through a year.

Fees will be reviewed on an annual basis.

Adult social care income collection and debt recovery

If you do not pay your client contribution, you will receive reminder letters and phone calls to see what is preventing you from making payments. If your debt increases on a regular basis and there are no arrangements in place with the Finance Team, your case will be referred to our solicitors and court action may be considered/taken.

Planning for your future

It is important that while you have the mental capacity to do so, you think about who you would like to deal with your personal affairs should anything happen to you and you become incapacitated. You can do this by putting a Lasting Power of Attorney in place. This can cover finances and health and will mean that if the time comes when you are unable to make this decision, the person you want to do this for you will have the legal power to do so. If this process is not in place and you do become incapacitated, a Court of Protection Deputyship may be needed and this means that a Court decides who deals with your affairs. This process can be lengthy and may result in 'Focus' managing your financial affairs. It is important to put things in place early to safeguard yourself and those acting on your behalf.

Corporate Appointee Team

'Focus' offers a Corporate Appointee team. This team is responsible for looking after the financial affairs of those individuals that lack capacity, and who do not have anyone to do this on their behalf. The services offered range from becoming your benefit appointee right through to being your Deputy for Property and Affairs under the Court of Protection. If a Social Work Practitioner or other professional feels you need a Corporate Appointee, they will make a referral to the team and a member of the team will be in touch with you.

Focus Independent Social Work CIC reserve the right to inform other relevant agencies about any financial wrongdoing.

Disability Related Expenditure (DRE)

It is not possible to give a complete list of DRE as this will vary according to individual needs. The overall aim is to allow for reasonable expenditure needed for independent living by a disabled person.

Primarily the Service User's Support Plan will guide the DRE, but allowances for expenses other than for care and support such as heating etc. will also be taken into account.

Any specialised equipment that is not normally purchased every month will be costed on an annual basis and divided into weekly equivalents and repaid over a reasonable period.

We will require receipts or similar evidence to back up claims for DRE, particularly for unusual items or heavy expenditure. If receipts are not available when the visit takes place you have 4 weeks to submit them. If receipts are not submitted within 4 weeks the claim will not be backdated.

Further details about DRE will be discussed with you as part of your Financial Assessment process.

Welfare benefits

Many people do not claim all of the benefits that they are entitled to. We are committed to helping people to get their full entitlement and will offer you a welfare benefits check and help you with any claims that need to be made.

Assistance will be provided, where required, to complete the appropriate benefit claim forms.

If you would prefer independent advice on benefit entitlement, the Financial Assessment Officer will refer the case, with your permission, to the appropriate agencies.

It is likely that your charges will increase if you get certain benefits, but for most people more than half of the extra benefits received are kept by them.

Change of circumstances

You need to report changes to your circumstances so you keep getting the right amount of benefits.

Your claim might be stopped or reduced if you do not report a change straight away or you give incorrect information.

Changes can include:

- going into hospital, a care home or sheltered accommodation
- any changes to your medical condition or disability
- changes to your pension, savings, investments or property
- changes to other money you get (for example student loans or grants, sick pay or money you get from a charity)
- changes to the benefits you or anyone else in your house gets

What is “housing related” support?

- Help with managing budgets and bills or applying for benefits
- Help to maintain safety in the home
- Help to keep appointments, including someone to go with you if necessary
- Helping someone deal with other services they might need - skills training, further education, employment, health and social activities
- Assisting with planning weekly meals, shopping and food preparation

How much should you be paying for the Supporting People service you receive?

If you receive a “short term” service which is less than two years (for example, supported lodgings or hostel accommodation) no charge is made to you. Instead “Supporting People” pays the support charge. The Supporting People Team pays the money direct to your support provider (so they won’t ask you for it).

If you receive a “long term” service which lasts for more than two years (for example a sheltered accommodation) and are in receipt of Housing Benefit then the charge will be paid direct to the provider by Supporting People.

If you have not claimed Housing Benefit before, talk to your provider who should be able to give you some advice.

Your charge will commence from the start of your service.

If for any reason there is a delay in completing your assessment, your charge will be backdated.

Self-funders

Self-funder Advice Note

This advice note is intended for anyone who has an eligible care and support need and has capital over the upper capital limit which is currently set at £23,250*.

This information will cover care and support in a care home and also care and support received in another setting (i.e. care in your own home).

Care and Support in a Care Home

If you have capital over £23,250* and receive services in a care home, you will be expected to self-fund your care until your capital falls below the upper capital limit. This means that you will be responsible for paying your care costs in full and your care home provider will inform you of what the weekly charge is set at. While you are paying for your own care, you may be entitled to claim Attendance Allowance (AA), Disability Living Allowance (DLA) or Personal Independence Payment (PIP) which are non means tested benefits which the government award to help you pay for additional care/items you require.

If you need to claim Attendance Allowance (AA), Disability Living Allowance (DLA) or Personal Independence Payment (PIP) please use the following telephone numbers or web link:

- Attendance Allowance - 0800 731 0122, Mon - Fri 8am - 6pm
- Disability Living Allowance - 0800 121 4600, Mon - Fri 9am - 5pm
- Personal Independence Payment - 0800 121 4433, Mon - Fri 9am - 5pm
- See www.gov.uk

As your capital gets closer to the upper capital limit of £23,250* please contact the Single Point of Access on 01472 256256 (option 2) in order for a referral to be made for an assessment of need. If you have eligible care and support needs, adult social care will help to fund your requirements once your funds fall below £23,250*.

Care and Support in Another Setting (i.e. your own home)

If you have capital over £23,250* or decide you do not wish to take part within the financial assessment process, you will be charged for the full cost of your care. This means that adult social care will not be able to assist you with the funding of your care, however; this does not affect your entitlement to receive an assessment of need.

If you have to pay for the full cost of care, this means that adult social care will not contribute towards your package so if for example you receive 2 carers to assist you with your needs, you will have to pay the cost for both carers that attend to you. You will not be covered by the 50% cap that has been applied to adult social care funded clients.

You may be entitled to claim Attendance Allowance/Disability Living Allowance or Personal Independence Payment which is a non means tested benefit which the government awards to help you pay for additional care/items you require.

- Attendance Allowance - 0800 731 0122, Mon - Fri 8am - 6pm
- Disability Living Allowance - 0800 121 4600, Mon - Fri 9am - 5pm
- Personal Independence Payment - 0800 121 4433, Mon - Fri 9am - 5pm
- See www.gov.uk

As your capital gets closer to the upper capital limit please contact the Single Point of Access on 01472 256 256 (option 2) in order for a referral to be made for a care assessment. If you have eligible care and support needs, adult social care will help to fund this once your funds fall below £23,250*.

Services That You Fund/Pay for Yourself

As a self funding client you will be able to choose which provider you wish to purchase your service from. Staff at Focus will be able to give you a list of providers that North East Lincolnshire Integrated Care Board (ICB) contract with, however; this does not mean that you have to pick one of them. Focus staff will often be able to tell you if a service will meet your eligible need and they can also give you advice on what will happen when your capital falls below the upper capital limit and you are entitled to adult social care funding.

At the point of you entering adult social care services, you may not be able to continue with your provider of choice if they are not commissioned via the ICB. This does not mean that your needs will not be met, it just means that a different provider may be delivering the care to you.

If you pay the full cost of the services that you receive within your own home, you can have these arranged for you by Focus. There is an administration fee for us doing this for you. If you would like further information on this service, please contact the Single Point of Access on 01472 256 256 (option 2).

*The figures quoted in this booklet are correct as of May 2026. To confirm the latest figures, contact the Finance Team on 0300 330 2870 or go to focusadultsocialwork.co.uk.

Reporting Neglect or Abuse

What is Safeguarding Adults?

Safeguarding adults is the process of protecting a person's right to live in safety, free from abuse and neglect and is primarily for those with care and support needs. These duties are set out in the Care Act 2014 and underpinned by the 6 key principles of empowerment, prevention, proportionality, protection, partnership, and accountability. These principles guide professionals and organisations in creating person-centred approaches that respect individual choices while ensuring safety and wellbeing.

Under Section 42 of the Care Act 2014, a local authority must carry out (or arrange for someone else to carry out) a safeguarding enquiry when all the following apply:

1. The adult has care and support needs, whether or not these are being met by the local authority.
2. The adult is experiencing, or at risk of, abuse or neglect.
3. Because of their care and support needs, the adult cannot protect themselves from the abuse, neglect, or risk of harm.

The purpose of a safeguarding enquiry is to understand what is happening, identify any risks, and take any actions that are necessary and proportionate to help keep the person safe.

Types of abuse covered by Section 42

The Care Act identifies a wide range of abuse and neglect that might trigger a safeguarding enquiry, including:

- Physical abuse
- Sexual abuse
- Psychological or emotional abuse
- Financial or material abuse
- Neglect or acts of omission
- Organisational abuse

- Discriminatory abuse
- Domestic violence or abuse
- Modern slavery
- Self neglect, including hoarding

These categories recognise that harm can be caused in many ways and that abuse may be caused by individuals, groups, or organisations.

Reporting a concern

If you believe that you or someone you know may be experiencing abuse or neglect, you can contact the Single Point of Access (SPA) on 01472 256 256 (option 2) for help and advice.

If a crime is happening, or someone is in immediate danger or needs urgent medical help, call 999 straight away. You do not need the adult's consent to make a safeguarding referral because the priority is to keep them safe, and their views and wishes will always be included later as part of the safeguarding process.

Once a concern is reported, and if the adult appears to meet the safeguarding criteria, the information will be passed to Focus's Safeguarding Adults Team for further triage and decision making. Where necessary, the concerns will be allocated for a formal safeguarding enquiry.

Safeguarding enquiries

A safeguarding enquiry looks at the concerns raised and helps everyone understand what is happening and what risks there may be. The enquiry keeps the adult at the heart of all decisions by listening to their views, wishes and what matters most to them. It then identifies what actions are needed, not only from the local authority but also from any other people or services involved, to help reduce risks and keep the adult safe in the least restrictive way.

What is Deprivation of Liberty?

A deprivation of liberty means that a person's freedom is being restricted in a significant way. This idea comes from Article 5 of the European Convention on Human Rights, which says that no one should have their liberty taken away unless a fair legal process has authorised it. In health and social care, this usually applies to people who cannot make decisions for themselves about where they live or what care they receive.

Sometimes, keeping someone safe and meeting their care needs means they need to be:

- under constant supervision and control,
- not free to leave the place where they are being cared for,
- or supported in a way that restricts their everyday freedoms.

When a person cannot consent to these arrangements because of an illness, injury, or condition that affects their ability to make decisions, the law requires that someone else decides on their behalf. This must be done through a properly authorised legal process to make sure the decision is in their best interests and that their rights are protected.

As of 2026, the current legal system for authorising a deprivation of liberty remains the Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards (DoLS). The government has announced plans to consult on a new system—Liberty Protection Safeguards (LPS)—but these have not yet come into force. Until they do, DoLS continues to be the legal framework that protects people's rights when they are deprived of their liberty in care homes or hospitals.

The Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards

If an adult aged 18 or over is staying in a hospital or care home, and the care they receive significantly limits their freedom, the local authority may need to authorise this using the Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards (DoLS). DoLS is part of the Mental Capacity Act 2005 and was created to make sure that people who cannot make certain decisions for themselves are protected and that any restrictions placed on them are lawful and in their best interests.

How the DoLS process works

To decide whether someone's care amounts to a deprivation of liberty, the local authority appoints two trained professionals:

- A Mental Health Assessor (MHA)
- A Best Interests Assessor (BIA)

Together, they carry out specific assessments, including whether the person lacks capacity to consent to the arrangements, whether the restrictions are necessary to keep them safe, and whether these restrictions are the least restrictive option available.

The Best Interests Assessor also considers the person's wishes, feelings, and beliefs, as well as the views of family, friends, and others involved in their care. If the assessor decides that the arrangements are necessary, proportionate, and in the person's best interests, they will recommend that the local authority authorise the deprivation of liberty.

Length of authorisation and safeguards

If granted, the local authority can authorise a deprivation of liberty for up to 12 months at a time. During this period:

- The authorisation can be reviewed to make sure it is still needed.
- If the person, their family, or others involved disagree with the arrangements, the case can be taken to the Court of Protection for a decision.

DoLS remains the current legal system for authorising deprivations of liberty in hospitals and care homes. The government has announced that it will run a consultation on the Liberty Protection Safeguards (LPS) in 2026, but LPS has not yet come into force.

When DoLS cannot be used

DoLS only applies to hospitals and care homes. If someone is deprived of their liberty in any other setting—such as in their own home, supported living, or other community placements—only the Court of Protection can authorise this. These situations are sometimes called “DoL in non standard settings.”

Getting help or advice

If you would like help understanding deprivation of liberty or how the process works, you can contact the MCA/DoLS Business Team on 0300 330 2860.

Deprivation of Liberty in Community Settings

Some people living in community settings, such as supported living, may be cared for in ways that significantly restrict their freedom. If the person cannot consent, the DoLS process cannot be used, because DoLS only applies in hospitals and care homes. In these situations, only the Court of Protection can authorise a deprivation of liberty.

What the Court of Protection does

The court looks at the person's care to make sure it is:

- Necessary to keep them safe
- Proportionate to their needs
- The least restrictive option
- In their best interests

If the court agrees that the arrangements meet these requirements, it can authorise the deprivation of liberty for up to 12 months. When the authorisation is due to end, the case must return to the court if the arrangements need to continue. This applies to people aged 16 and over.

Preparing a case for the court

When preparing an application, different professionals contribute information:

- A GP or other clinician provides a statement confirming whether the person has an unsoundness of mind, which is required for the court to consider a deprivation of liberty.
- The allocated worker (such as a social worker or care coordinator) completes the capacity assessment and support plan which provides the main documentation explaining the person's circumstances, needs and wishes alongside a clear description of the restrictions in place, an explanation of why they are necessary, proportionate, and in the person's best interests.

Once the court has reviewed all the information and is satisfied that the legal criteria are met, it can authorise the deprivation of liberty.

Why do some people have to wait a long time for a DoL to be authorised?

Many people experience delays because local authorities and the courts are dealing with far more cases than expected. This increase happened after a court ruling known as the Cheshire West judgment, which meant that more people now qualify for safeguards than before.

Because of this high demand, local authorities often have to prioritise the most urgent cases using recognised risk assessment tools. This can mean that people who have been receiving care for a long time, are settled, and have no current concerns may wait longer for their authorisation. Although these delays are not ideal, the risk to people in these stable situations is usually low, and local authorities continue to work hard to review and process cases as quickly as they can.

Both the DoLS process (used in hospitals and care homes) and the DoL in the community process (authorised by the Court of Protection) exist to protect people's human rights. The Government is considering changes that may simplify these systems in the future, which could speed up decisions and reduce the number of cases needing to go to court. Until any changes are confirmed, the current processes will continue.
